Flash mob tizzy

A GROUP of Temple of Fine Arts students have been taking dance to unlikely places in Kuala Lumpur, for the upcoming Dance India Taste India weekend event.

Says student Hariraam Tingyuan Lam, 22: "This is one way of bringing attention to the event, rather than just handing out flyers."

The music diploma student at Aswara adds: "There are just 10 of us in the flash mob, most of the time. We have performed bhangra and a Bollywood dance medley at Little India, Central Market and at KL Sentral."

TFA's Dance India Taste India (DITI) offers bits and pieces of the subcontinent's rituals, culture, cuisine, and food under one roof.

From a traditional south Indian wedding and the Holi festival, to a fun celebration of Lord Krishna's birthday where a human pyramid is formed to reach the pot of butter. You can also participate in street games like kabaddi and kaunda kaundi, or saree tying.

DITI runs Oct 12-13, from 10am to 10pm, ending with a fireworks display each night. For details, visit <http://tfa.org.my/bday/Diti2013.html> or call +60-3-2274 3709.
